

The People's Column

The United Daughters of the Confederacy organization of Bryan deserves much commendation for placing flowers on the graves of more than 120 veterans of the Confederate, Spanish and Allied armies. Decorating these graves takes considerable time and effort, but it is a most noble work. The American people are easy to cool off and quick to forget. These soldiers sacrificed their lives in the march of progress and development of civilization. They gave all they had for the betterment of mankind. We praise and encourage them when we want them to fight for us, but too often they are forgotten when the struggle is over. While we are busy with the problems of today, we should pause to honor those who have made possible our advantages. We must not be ungrateful of those who have done so much for us. Civilization means revering and honoring those who died for high purposes and much as it means inspiring others to noble deeds. The entire community should cooperate with this splendid organization in trying to locate the graves of our fallen heroes.

CRISIS IN FLOOD BELIEVED PASSED

NUMBER OF DEAD IN FLOOD MAY NOT GREATLY EXCEED 200

Herbert Hoover Returns From Memphis and Reports Conditions in that Section Are Not Satisfactory; Homeless May Not be More Than 150,000

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 27.—Crisis probably has been passed in the Mississippi River flood situation and no more extent where hardship and suffering and loss of life and property is anticipated in the opinion of Secretary Hoover, who arrived here today, completing his tour of the area from Memphis to New Orleans. In Mississippi and Arkansas Hoover said he found no unsatisfactory conditions and only necessity of continuing of adequate relief measures. He said, however, that his view of the end of the flood danger may be upset by later developments. Cabinet official said he believed flood dead will not greatly exceed 200 and homeless will probably be not greater than 150,000.

Says Parents and Profs Also Are to Blame for Cribbing

(By Associated Press.)
FORT WORTH, April 27.—The problem of cheating among students of American colleges and universities was dissected by Dean Oscar A. Ullrich of Southwestern University in an address at the last session of a two-day meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges here.

After declaring that cheating in colleges is widespread, Dean Ullrich laid the cause at the door of the American system of education as it has developed in recent years. Parents of college students and professors themselves came in for criticism, however. A survey at Southwestern University showed that among the primary causes of cheating was the attitude of some parents, which was passed on to students, that a degree is a badge of respectability and a university a kind of matrimonial agency, where social successes are more desirable than learning, Dean Ullrich said. To obtain a degree on these terms and obtain the social success which their parents expect of them, students will resort to cheating, he declared.

Local Red Cross Relief Fund Is Now Almost $1,000; More Needed

Bryan Red Cross relief fund continues to grow, the total amount to noon Wednesday being $988 with the following donations added to the report in Tuesday's Eagle: Miss Ella Bandelin $3; Miss Allie Conway $2.50; Mat. F. Vitopil $1; Knights of Columbus $10; M. G. Sowarby $10; from the "pots" on Main Street $35 for Tuesday, making a total received of $988.

A slight mistake was made in the type of the report of Tuesday stating that the Woman's Benefit Association gave $50, when it should have read $5. The total as published was correct. All who have read the flood reports of today realize that the task of the American Red Cross is a great one. The list of dead and the list of homeless and suffering increases daily, and with the

Sinks Comments On Manslaughter

AUSTIN, April 27.—The clause preserving all manslaughter cases and indictments was in the bill as it passed the House, was the declaration made here Tuesday by Representative Ed R. Sinks of Giddings, who sponsored the measure on the floor which abolished the degree of manslaughter in homicide cases.

Judge Sinks said that either the amendment failed to get to the Senate for concurrence or that it was omitted in enrollment. He said he personally saw to it that the measure had the saving clause when it passed the House; that it was put on the committee after which the committee reported the bill adversely and that he brought it out on a favorable minority report. The minority report was adopted carrying the amendment, he declared.

This is the first explanation of the omission of a saving clause in the measure. A further statement by Judge Sinks was that he had written Gov. Dan Moody, giving the facts and he believes that the special session will insert the now lost amendment.

The Bryan-College pike is a splendid example of the old adage which says "there is no royal road to learning."

A prominent Bryan men's clothing merchant advertises Leghorn hats. This must be for the chickens.

Japan is faced with a financial crisis. We knew China was raising too much cash, and Japan must be raising too much rice.

President Coolidge admits that he likes the circus. Maybe it is because he wants to be ringmaster again for four years.

The Bryan-College pike is not a very good advertisement for the kind of roads A. and M. graduates can build.

The Catholics of Texas are to be commended for being the first church to build a chapel and recreational center at A. and M. College to be used by students of all denominations.

Three college presidents in Texas have resigned this week. The tenure of the office of the president of a college is about the same as that of the president of Nicaragua.

The University of Texas Board of Regents would do well to elect Dr. W. B. Bizzell president of the institution. He would be able to handle this rather delicate situation, and the people of the state would have absolute confidence in the management of the affairs of the institution. The board is faced with the proposition of securing an outstanding man for the place.

There are 46 students in the senior class of Bryan high school and it is said that 43 of them are going off to college next fall. Bryan students are ambitious and willing to pay the price to try to be somebody.

The First Baptist church of Bryan raised $800 Sunday morning for the flood sufferers. Several members donated $100 each. This excellent example of genuine charity is a challenge to the other organizations of the city.

Bryan has been honored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in having E. B. Astin of this city again named on the board of directors. Bryan is glad to do its part in fostering this organization, and appreciates the recognition.

Bryan and College people will have the opportunity Monday night of hearing one of the best informed men in America in Dean Walter Williams. No American has done more for his profession than the educator from the University of Missouri.

EAST TEXAS ENTHUSIASTIC

Tyler deserves much credit and is to be congratulated on the masterly way in which the horde of delegates to the East Texas Chamber of Commerce annual meeting was handled. Tyler citizens, every one, men and women, made themselves a committee of one to extend courtesies to the visitors. And we feel sure it was the largest crowd ever handled by a city in Texas of like size as Tyler.

The enthusiasm that is so essential to the success of anything was manifested. Not this bubbling over emotion, but that dynamic spirit that generates a certain radiant energy that gave birth to the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and has been increasing ever since it was organized. This kind of enthusiasm knows no defeat. This enthusiasm at the meeting enjoyed by all from every corner of East Texas was tangible evidence if there ever had been any selfishness and jealousy between East Texas towns it had been obliterated.

The convention will not be soon forgotten by those who attended. And those who attended will stimulate an even greater activity for next year's convention and the good of the organization throughout the year.

Whatever part Bryan and College played in making it a great gathering The Eagle is proud of it and we hope that they will continue to cooperate and give of their support, for this great annual gathering, there will be more Texans know of East Texas; more East Texans brought out of their lethargy and more East Texans with a broader knowledge of their own opportunities.

The president's race looks like Cal et Al.

Members of the University of Texas athletic council say they are going to resign. Some Bryan folks wish they had reached this decision several months ago.

President Coolidge made a master political as well as a humanitarian stroke when he sent Hoover to Memphis to direct flood relief work.

John Milatz, an air mail pilot, was killed at Cleveland today. However, accidents in the air mail service have been comparatively few, which shows that air travel is becoming safer all of the time.

Bryan will hear a potential candidate for the United States Senate Thursday in Hon. Tom Connally of Marlin. He has been an outstanding Congressman for years.

Horses are coming back into their own today at A. and M. College. The Cavalry Horse Show promises to be a most successful affair. Horses at least have some value as an attraction, even if there is little else left for them.

The opening of the Sue Haswell Memorial Park Thursday will be a great day in Bryan's history. It will commemorate the most philanthropic deed ever performed by a Bryan citizen, and the park will be a haven of rest and recreation to generations yet unborn.

Elbert Hubbard said: "One unselfish soul in every community will redeem the world." The guarantors of chautauqua are a whole bunch of unselfish souls working for the uplift of the community and they should be considered as such.

The seriousness of the flood situation in many of our Southern States is almost beyond human conception. It may be more than a month before the waters subside in many places, and New Orleans and many other cities may be in the path of destruction. It will be a number of days before the crisis will be reached.

Farmers in the Delta region might as well move out and look somewhere else for their occupation this year. In many localities near the Mississippi River it will be impossible to make a cotton crop this year. If our Texas farmers will continue to cut down on acreage, the price of cotton is almost certain to advance.

SAND VS. SENSE

A live sand crab was found in Bryan the other day. Crabs usually have more sand than sense.

The fact that sand crabs have more sand than sense is probably proven by the fact that one was found on the streets of Bryan.—Mineral Wells Index.

The crab should have had sense enough to stay in the sea.

Mrs. McDowell Is Back From Clifton

Mrs. H. B. McDowell, delegate to the Ninth District meeting Parent-Teacher Association at Clifton from the East Side association of Bryan, returned home last night, and reports a most delightful convention. She with the other representatives from Bryan and College, are enthusiastic over the victory won, which brings the Ninth District meeting of 1928 to this city. The scrap book taken from the East Side P-T. A. by Mrs. McDowell, was third in the contest for the prize, but as College Consolidated scrap book received second place, the Bryan P-T. A. has reason for rejoicing, as the two joint hands in all endeavors and in spirit of service and usefulness in the great work of the P-T. A.

Mrs. McDowell says "the annual report of Bryan East Side Association was among the very best at the convention." The one reason why it did not receive the prize was because it did not have the required per cent of the patrons of the school enrolled as members of the Parent-Teacher Association. The work of Bryan P-T. A. was highly praised by the state and district officers. Here is a point to be made. If the patrons of the schools will give their assistance to the P-T. A. wonderful things can be accomplished in Bryan for the schools and school children, said Mrs. McDowell.

Delayed Winter Is On The Job

Bryan Woman Talks At Tyler Meeting

(By Associated Press)

TYLER, April 23.—It takes the home, the school and the church, and sound financing to make the ideal community, Miss Susan Landon of Dallas, educational director of the Texas Farm Bureau, told the woman's conference of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here Thursday afternoon. Miss Landon particularly stressed the problems of farm women and dwelt at length on the evils of the present marketing system.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree of Bryan, one of Texas' most beloved newspaper women, spoke on "Our Changing Home." Mrs. Rountree's talk was of an optimistic nature, although she sounded a note of warning, and bristled with witty remarks. Miss Marianne Richer, department home economics, Sam Houston State Teachers' College, read an interesting paper on "Sane eating habits."

The conference which was held in the First Presbyterian church, was attended by perhaps 200 women, representing many points in East Texas. Miss Mildred Horton of College Station, state home demonstration agent, presided and women of the church poured tea in the basement after the conclusion of the program.

BRAZOS CO. LEADS-OTHERS WILL FOLLOW

Immediately after the election of the new board of directors of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce the board went into executive session and set the quota assessments for each county in the organization. Brazos county's quota was $1,000 and through our director E. H. Astin we have accepted the quota. The plan adopted by the board of raising the funds is by individual memberships of $10 each.

Aboard the train on the return trip the delegates from Bryan who attended the Tyler meeting appointed themselves as a committee to secure these memberships, each taking five memberships to place. Now Brazos county wants to be first in putting over its quota. Brazos always leads, so let's get busy and lead the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. If you haven't been approached to take out a membership won't you see some member of the twenty-five delegates and give them your name and check for $10. He who hesitates is lost. Now is the time. Get busy. The final report of the committee will be heard at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday.

A minuet, danced by eight of Bryan's most popular and accomplished club women, will be an attractive feature on the program. There will also be a brilliant chorus of Apache Indian dancers, composed of 25 of the prettiest of Bryan High School girls. The Tohu Bohu, bids fair to eclipse all future entertainments for excellence and brilliancy.

Bryan Churches Give To The Red Cross On Sunday

That the spirit of the American Red Cross still lives in the hearts of the people, and that its purpose in bringing aid and comfort to the needy and distressed is uppermost in the lives of all true men and women everywhere, was evidenced on Sunday in Bryan when the various churches of the city, responded to the call, made in The Eagle of Saturday afternoon in the form of a telegram from Wm. M. Baxter Jr., manager of the Midwestern branch, American Red Cross at St. Louis, Mo., for aid for the thousands who are homeless and suffering in the flooded districts of the Mississippi River.

With report from the churches very incomplete, at this time, many not having yet finished their collections, the fund has already reached the figure of $836. Reported to date are:

First Baptist church ----- $800
First Presbyterian Sunday School ----- $30

Free Baptist Sunday School... $6
This call for suffering humanity has touched the hearts of all, and today, there are three "pots" arranged on Main street for general collection of funds for the thousands who are suffering in the flooded districts along the Mississippi river. One "Pot" is in front of Holmes Bros., one in front of Roman & Vick's drug store and one in front of The Fair. Lang Spell, Eric Fletcher and W. R. Thomas are responsible for putting out these "pots" so that everybody may have an opportunity to give to this Red Cross relief fund. At College the collection for Red Cross relief funds at this time is in the hands of Luther G. Jones, assisted by Mrs. F. L. Thomas.

Let everybody do his and her part, knowing that the need is greater than can possibly be reached.

A second telegram today, to the secretary of the Brazos County Red Cross chapter from St. Louis Midwestern Branch, American Red Cross, states that at this time, only cash can be used. "Impractical at this time to accept local donations of clothing or supplies," reads the telegram.

It is a great task but a task of love and Christian sympathy. Brazos county has never failed when the hour of emergency struck. She will not fail to hear this cry for help.

College at 10:00 o'clock Sunday morning and the laying of the corner stone of St. Anthony's Catholic church at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Bryan. The crowds were brought in on special trains, Houston contributing the largest number. Thomas Edison the wizard of electricity, Luther Burbank, the wizard of the garden, and Henry Ford the wizard of mechanics, because they are leaders in their particular fields of endeavor does not guarantee their ability to be leaders in spiritual things," said Bishop Byrne in his dedication sermon in making the statement that there was no conflict between science and religion and the men and women that had contributed most to the world have believed in the immortality of the soul. While this is an age to think much of what we eat, drink and the where-with to be clothed he pleaded for the development of the spiritual and pointed to the lilies of the field as an example. Bishop Byrne expressed his personal thanks and the thanks of all Catholics to the Knights of Columbus for the erection of St. Mary's Chapel near to the splendid institution of A. and M. College. The generosity that prompted the gift with the blessing of God would not be forgotten. And he dared to remind the young men that would have particular use of the chapel to remember the K. of C. in their prayers and to show their appreciation of the gift by being strong in their faith, zealous in their life for the principle guiding the work of the K. of C. and bringing a blessing in the honor of God.

Following the dedication sermon a barbecue was served in the open. T. L. Evans was master of ceremonies and introduced Joseph I. Driscoll, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus who expressed his appreciation for the co-operation of not only state councils but councils throughout the United States.

Dr. T. O. Walton, president of A. and M. College, was presented and expressed the congratulations of the college authorities and the student body for the generosity of the Catholics in building the first chapel and recreational center for the benefit of A. and M. College students.

THAD PIPPIN IS KILLED BY THE MEXICANS

DECEDENT IS BROTHER OF
MRS. ESKINE AND RAY
PIPPIN OF BRYAN

(By International News)
EL PASO, April 22.—Thad Pippin, border patrolman from Bryan was killed in a battle with Mexican liquor smugglers last night. Egbert Crossett, another patrolman, was wounded but will recover. The battle occurred in smelter canyon on the Rio Grande.

Story Told Of Death Of Bryan Man On Border

(El Paso Herald)
Blood flowed again in the smelter district late Thursday night as smugglers opened fire upon two border patrol officers, killing one almost instantly, and wounding his companion.

Thad Pippin, 37, a member of the border patrol since May, 1926, was killed and his companion, Egbert N. Crossett, 30, was wounded when smuggler guards ambushed the pair with sawed-off shotguns just after the officers had arrested and handcuffed two smugglers.

Both of the smugglers, still handcuffed, escaped during the shooting. The officers, who returned the fire of the smugglers, probably wounded one of the smuggler party, as a trail of blood, leading from the scene of the ambush was discovered when reinforcements arrived at the scene of the battle.

Mr. Pippin was struck by seven buckshot, three of which entered the breast, three in the right shoulder and one in the face. The shots were fired at close range.

Four pistol bullets entered Mr. Crossett's body. No bones or vital organs were struck, however, and attaches at Masonic hospital, where the injured man was sent, said Friday that he probably would recover.

The battle occurred in a canyon in the hills about 500 yards from the boundary line, west of the smelter.

Seeing the smugglers, as they led two burros laden with liquor down the narrow trail, the officers followed, placed two men under arrest, and took charge of the pack mules. The men were handcuffed to prevent their escape.

Mr. Pippin then started back up the trail for the horses, leaving Mr. Crossett to guard the prisoners. He had gone only a few yards when smuggler guards, pals of the men who had been arrested, suddenly opened fire from behind some rocks.

Pippin hastily returned the fire with two shots, one of from his pistol and one from his rifle, and then fell dead. Crossett emptied his six-shooter and fired two shots from his shotgun at the hidden enemy.

Two other patrolmen, D. D. Platt and E. C. Runge, arrived at the scene a few minutes later, but the smugglers had left the scene. Pippin fell down an embankment which had been used as a dump at the brick plant.

The place where the battle took place is in the rugged hills in the vicinity of the brick plant and long has been a thorn in the side of border patrolmen. This entire section has been used as a crossing point and rendezvous for smugglers, and many battles between smugglers and officers have occurred in the neighborhood.

Nineteen gallons of liquor and two burros were seized. Mr. Pippin's body is being held at the Peak-Hagedorn mortuary. His mother, Mrs. Etta Pippin, resides at Bryan, Texas.

Kurten School Closes Friday

Kurten School closed Friday night, with a splendid program. A large crowd was in attendance, quite a number going out from Bryan late Friday afternoon to be present. The program of the occasion was composed of music, vocal and instrumental, readings, dialogues, and other interesting features. The address of the evening was made by Rev. J. J. Kasiski, and was a masterpiece of eloquence. Rev. Kasiski took for his subject, Pauls advice to Timothy, using as a text these words, "Stir up the gift of God within you." This has been one of the most successful years of the Kurten School. Teachers for the term were: Prof. Elijah Ruddy, principal, Miss Alice Pearl Odom, Mrs. Maggie Kelley, Miss Victoria Friedel.

Bryan Delegates To Ninth District Parent-Teachers' Meeting Carry Off Honors At Clifton Meeting This Week

(By Mrs. M. R. Bentley, publicity director for the Ninth District Parent-Teacher Association.)
"It is Better in Bryan." Especially when one turns toward Bryan with the heart throbs of that always thrill on "Coming Home." Yet we have nothing but praise and appreciation for Clifton and its splendid citizenship. Truthfully and cordially we can say that the hospitality and progress of Clifton could not be excelled by any city of Texas either greater or smaller than Clifton.

Local committees in charge, had every detail of the convention well in hand already, when Mrs. Bender, Mrs. Seary and I arrived on Monday evening, and Tuesday when the delegates began to arrive, they had but to register with the credentials committee, and be taken immediately into one of the matchless homes of this beautiful little city; where every effort was put forth to provide comfort and convenience.

The Ninth District P-T-A. convention was a success in every particular, and the credit lies equally between the competent president, Mrs. John R. Bender (our own Mrs. Bender), and the local committee of tireless workers, who "set the stage" by anticipating every demand of such a meeting. The cultural features of the program were supplied entirely by local talent; and these numbers would challenge the appreciation of any audience with ear a tune to the finer arts of music and drama. Especial mention is due to the musical reading by Mrs. M. E. Belding; the rendition of "Erl King," by Miss Antoinette West-gard; the Playlet given by a group of young people, and the several musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, rendered by the students of Clifton College under the very pleasing and unusual direction of Prof. Fredrickson.

The hospitality of homes which were in themselves a benediction to the visitors was supplemented by two delightful luncheons, served in the dining hall of the City Auditorium as compliments of the business men of Clifton, and on Wednesday afternoon a twenty-mile excursion on the scenic and historic drive through the mountains that surround Clifton, terminated at the beautiful city park where a delightful picnic supper

Local Colored Folk To Observe Emancipation Day

The colored citizens of Bryan and Brazos county will have a very unique and interesting celebration on the Nineteenth of June, 1927, their Sixty-second year of Emancipation.

A mass meeting was held last night at the Shiloh Baptist church to arouse the "Old Spirit," elect officers and committees. R. B. Goosby, acted as temporary chairman and Dr. I. A. Cater as temporary secretary. The following officers were elected: Jethro Hatchett, president; Prof. Tim Phillips, vice-president; Dr. I. A. Carter, secretary; Jewis Thompson, assistant secretary; Clarence Johnson, treasurer.

A committee on finance was also elected: Dr. A. E. Thompson, chairman; Ernest Cass, Edwin Pierce.

Our next meeting will be held April 26th at Allen Chapel A. M. E. church and we are requesting all colored people to attend. Respectfully submitted, JETHRO HATCHETT, President; DR. I. A. CARTER, secretary.

was served with none other than Mayor Ed Handley himself serving the ice cream. We could not praise too highly the spirit of civic progress and cooperation that has made possible the building of Clifton's very complete and adequate city auditorium. It has a seating capacity of 600, with complete and fully equipped kitchen and dining facilities, rest rooms, display rooms, etc., in the basement. The building is of plain but simple and dignified design, and our constant wish was that Bryan might have just such a place with a seating capacity of 2500 or 3000.

And so the 1927 convention came happily to a close. There was but one question in the air: "Who gets the convention in 1928?" Today that question has been answered, and this signal honor has been bestowed upon Bryan and College Station. All Bryan and College could well be proud of Mrs. O. E. Sieck, and the winning arguments she presented in delivering the invitation speech. Mrs. Sieck has pledged the word and honor of our whole community in this respect, and we feel sure that Bryan will "deliver" when the time arrives to redeem her pledge.

Honors came to us through awards as follows: To College Consolidated went the first prize a Bluebonnet Scene, in poster exhibits, and second place in the scrap-book contest. This scrap-book was prepared by Mrs. C. C. Hedges. East Side school won third place in the scrap-book exhibits, having submitted a splendid record of the year's work as recorded in newspaper clippings.

West Side's Poster Exhibit made a very creditable showing; but lacked in artistic perfection. In theme and originality they graded above average.

Mrs. Lee Knight of Temple was elected to succeed Mrs. E. A. Armin of Platanita as vice president. Mrs. Armin's resignation was accepted with deep regret, and this step taken to fill the vacancy thus created. In the closing moments of the meeting, Mrs. Knight is a veteran in the ranks of Parent Teacher workers in Texas, and will make a wonderful contribution to the accomplishments of the district during the coming months.

Coffey, Wichita Falls; Dr. J. F. Bromert, Amarillo; E. M. Rowley, San Antonio; George P. Gleason, San Angelo; John C. Schumacher, La Grange.

Extension Service Club Has Meeting

The Extension Service Club met on April 21 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Smith with Mrs. S. A. McMillan as joint hostess.

The meeting was opened by the club prayer which was led by Mrs. T. E. Wallace. An important business session followed, during which a most interesting report from the club delegate to the district federation meeting at Port Arthur was heard. Mrs. S. C. Evans represented the club there and gave her report in an entertaining manner.

The subject of the program was "Texas Wild Flowers and Birds," by Mrs. R. R. Lancaster. The discussion was illustrated with wild flower pictures by local artists and by numerous colored plates from nature books and magazines. The lesson was instructive to all.

Roll call was answered by giving the name of your native state flower. The following members were present: Mesdames A. W. Buchanan, S. D. Hughes, J. S. Mogford, G. W. Johnson, R. R. Lancaster, A. L. Smith, J. T. Egan, C. H. Alvord, D. L. Weddington, E. E. Endley, E. A. Miller, S. C. Evans, S. A. McMillan, T. B. Wood, T. E. Wallace, H. R. Williamson, W. H. Darrow, V. R. Glazener, and Miss Bess Edwards.

A new member, Mrs. E. N. Holmgreen, was welcomed into the club. Mr. Holmgreen has recently accepted the place as poultry specialist with the Extension Service. A social hour with a dainty refreshment course was enjoyed after the program.

Four Bryan Boys Make Honor Roll Of Allen School

Thirty-six students are listed on the Allen Academy honor roll for the third term, which recently ended, according to N. B. Allen, principal. The honor roll is divided into "distinguished" and "honor" students. Students in the first class are those who make only A's, while students who do not make below a B in any subject are given the "honor" rating.

Four students made the "distinguished" list as follows: James Aiken, Salado; William Ladin, Houston; Ben Jones, Weslaco, and James Lee, Houston. "Honor" students are: Wesley Acord, College Station; William Alexander, Gulf; George Allen, Emory; Ernest Calloway, Mumford; Maxwell Cammack, Shreveport, La.; Courtney Cook, Sherman; Lunsford Cook, Goose Creek; Roland Dansby, Bryan; Robert David, Livingston; Alvin Dawson, Waco; Tom Ellis, Corpus Christi; Weldon Farmer, Bryan; James George, Bryan; Paul Harris, Dallas; Charles Hoppe, Galveston; Edwin Huber, Dallas; Sam Knox, Bryan; Frank Ladin, Houston; George Manning, Houston; Bus Moore, Itasca; Harold Morgan, Houston; Oliver Owens, Tampico, Mex.; Robert Pyle, Fort Worth; William Quartz, Goose Creek; Evelyn Radford, Dallas; John Rasmusen, Galveston; John Roach, Paris; Derwin Sharp, Houston; Adrian Tracy, Houston; Charles Warren, Corpus Christi; David Winterman, Eagle Lake, and John Williams, Schulenberg.

Outfield Has Snap

It is interesting to note that the Bryan outfield did not get a fly ball to catch. Wendt knocked one over the left fielder and the other fly balls to the outfield were Texas Leaguers. Wilkening made a double play to himself when he caught Griffith's line drive and stepped on the bag to retire Scanlin. Cobb made a wonderful bare-handed stop of Wendt's stinging grounder which was headed for the open spaces about six inches inside the third base line.

One Big Inning

Bryan had a big inning in the third when a walk, three hits, and a rather unusual play brought in five runs. Conway, lead-off man for the inning, walked and went to third when Mercer let Barron's grounder roll into right field. Barron was held off first, however, but stole second before Dansby singled to left scoring Conway and Barron. Dansby took second on the throw-in and was held on the base while Andrews was grounding out, third to first. Robertson accounted for the second out when he popped to short. Scanlin kept the ball rolling however, and singled to right, scoring Dansby and going to second on the throw. Cobb singled to left, sending Scanlin to third. Dishman then hit to short, whose throw pulled Tiemann off the bag about two feet, making it necessary for him to tag Dishman as he came to first. Tiemann put the ball all over Dishman; and would have had him out, but he dropped the ball. Dishman, not knowing he was safe, started to his position

BRYAN WINS AS GRIFFITH FANS ELEVEN BRENHAM BATTERS HERE

By NELSON FULLER
The Brenham high school baseball team came, saw, and was conquered by the Bryan high ball tossers by a score of ten to six. The game was played Friday afternoon on the Allen Academy diamond.

The Brenhamites got to "Lefty" Griffith for ten safeties including a home run into deep left by Wendt, and while Griffith was somewhat free with the hits, he was also generous in regard to strike outs, eleven batters being retired in this way. In the past three games, Lefty has fanned 32 men in 22 innings. The only extra base hit of the game was Wendt's powerful drive to the left field fence. Dansby and Wilkening stole three bases each. Scanlin and Dansby collected most of Bryan's hits off Lefty Rogers, each getting two singles, while Wilkening led the hitters for the day, getting three singles, and Wendt got a single besides his home run.

A tour through the biology and botany laboratories and through the museums in Francis Hall, gave a finishing touch to the morning's pleasing hospitality and also brought to close one of the very best years in the history of Delphian work in Bryan. The departing guests all gave assurance of their appreciation for Mrs. Francis' untiring effort on behalf of a pleasant and profitable year's work in the Delphian club.

Bryan High Wins Over Consolidated Here On Tuesday

By NELSON FULLER
On Monday afternoon at Edge Field the Bryan high baseball team continued its winning ways by defeating the Consolidated high school team nine to three, thereby sweeping the two-game series with this high school team.

Coach Cox sent in his second string players to start the game, and when the regulars took the field in the sixth inning, they had a six-run lead to play under, the score being 7 to 1 at the end of the fifth. Charlie Cummings, Bryan's big right handed twirler, pitched the first eight innings and had the opposing team well in check, hitting Consolidated down with six hits and two runs, during his stay on the mound. Even though the second string men had not played in the last two games, they turned in a good game while playing Monday. Solon Griffith, Cummings' battery mate, especially had a good day with the ash, connecting for two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate. Kocman, who played third, also hit for two bases.

Lynn Griffith hurled the final inning for the locals and was scored on once as the result of two errors and a walk. Lynn did not fail to increase his strike out as one batter made an out by fanning. The Bryan regulars scored two runs in the seventh when Dishman beat out an infield hit, swiped second and stole third as Conway walked. Conway then stole second and both runners tallied when Barron hit for two bases.

Rev. Brown Back From Meet Held At Liberty, Texas

Rev. R. L. Brown, pastor of the College Station Baptist church, has returned from Liberty, where he had been helping Rev. A. T. Coleman, pastor of the Baptist church, in a revival meeting. Rev. Coleman was formerly associate pastor of the First Baptist church in Bryan and teacher in Bryan Baptist Academy. Rev. Brown reports a grand meeting. The churches of the city were greatly revived and strengthened. The Baptist church received fifty-two members, the majority coming by baptism. The strength of the meeting was shown by the fact that a large number of fathers and mothers joined the church by baptism. The church held Sunday School attendance during the revival. A business man's Bible class was organized at the close of the meeting with 24 members. The B. Y. P. U. program was reinforced by an additional B. Y. P. U.

The musical program was in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. E. John Meyers of North Shore Baptist church, Chicago, Ill. Mr. Meyers is connected with the Educational department of that church. The liberal offering given to Rev. Brown for his services was put in the building fund of the College Station Baptist church. The College Station Baptists are in a campaign to raise money to build a church. Any contributions for that worthy object will be greatly appreciated by them.

Cleanliness Is Emphasized For Growing Chicks

COLLEGE STATION, April 27.—The old proverb, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," must be followed for the successful growing of baby chicks in the spring, according to Professor D. H. Reid, head of the poultry husbandry department, A. and M. College of Texas. Professor Reid stresses the fact that cleanliness in everything is the first principle which must be strictly adhered to in baby chick raising. He advocates clean chicks in clean houses, fed clean feed in clean dishes, and allowed to run out only on land that is free from poultry parasites.

"Chick houses should be cleaned by scrubbing them with a hot disinfectant, which is more effective than disinfectant used cold," Professor Reid said in a recent discussion of the care of baby chicks. "Use boiling water to mix the disinfectant. After the house has been disinfected, a deep litter of straw or hay on the floor is a material help in keeping the chicks clean. If only a small quantity of litter is used it should be changed daily. All feed and water dishes must be carefully disinfected, then allowed to dry in the sun as an added precaution. Then fill them with clean feed and water and your disease trouble will be greatly reduced."

Professor Reid advises letting the chicks run out on the ground during dry weather, if there is green grass and clover available. If the weather turns wet and warm, the chicks should be kept indoors until the wet spell is over as warm, wet soil is more dangerous from the standpoint of coccidiosis. If it is impossible to let the chicks out on clean land, lawn clippings and cut green feed will help to keep them growing properly. The chicks should be kept warm and dry at night. If any of them become sick they must be kept clean and dry first of all if they are to be restored to health. It is wise to remove diseased chicks at once, and so save a larger number from infection.

The following feeding methods for growing baby chicks are recommended by Professor Reid: "It pays to keep a growing mash before the chicks at all times, but it is also a good plan to feed a mixture of corn and sorghum grains if milk and oyster shell are available to be fed with it. Be sure to give the growing chicks plenty of green feed. Some people do not get a good growth on their chicks through their failure to provide mineral material. Bone meal is not expensive and five pounds added to every one hundred pounds of mash fed helps in growing large framed pullets. Growing chicks will do very well if fed largely on corn and sorghum grains, with milk to drink with oyster shell, or with bone meal added to the ration. The following is a good home-made ration: 200 lbs. corn meal, 100 lbs. shorts, 100 lbs. bran, 25 lbs. oyster shell, 25 lbs. bone meal, 15 lbs. cottonseed meal, 15 lbs. 65 per cent meat scrap, 3 lbs. salt. Grain should be fed to the growing chicks twice a day, in the morning and evening.

Siecke Advises Reforestation Of East Texas Farm Lands

DALLAS, April 27.—That much marginal farming land in East Texas, which now is producing little or no return from farming, should go back to growing commercial timber, and that farming and timber production in many East Texas counties could go on profitably side by side, is the message delivered to the Dallas Agricultural Club at its Monday luncheon at the Baker Hotel, by E. O. Siecke, state forester, who spoke on "American Forest Week."

The club gave a vote of thanks to Mr. Siecke and also commended the action of Gov. Dan Moody for his recent recommendation of a timber conservation and reforestation program for East Texas pine forests and cut-over land.

"The big timber companies would be glad to reforest cut-over areas and grow a future supply of timber if Texas timber counties had such laws as now are in operation in Louisiana and other Southern States whereby the companies are assured a reasonable taxation on reforested areas," Mr. Siecke said. "As the situation now stands the farmers are practically growing the next timber crop on their lands. Nature is doing much to bring back forests on adapted soils, which are not actually farming soils but young forests need help. The present practice of farmers to cut ties and pole timber and practically leaving no saw timber means the destruction of these growing forests, whereas, if the young forests were only thinned sufficiently by cutting the timbers the saw logs would take care of themselves, and in fifteen or twenty years would bring a large revenue."

The original virgin forest area of East Texas was about 14,000,000 acres, which Mr. Siecke stated, had dwindled to 1,200,000 acres, which at present rate of lumbering means their practical extinction in six or seven years. He cited successful instances in Louisiana where the Great Southern Lumber company of Bagalusa had reforested large areas with long-leaf pine grown in nurseries and transplanted to forest land. Also, he said that in the Texas State forests near Kirbyville and near Conroe, his department was reforesting both long-leaf and loblolly pine successfully.

At Bagalusa fully 90 per cent of the entire pine tree is utilized either as lumber or by-products. The tops, which usually have been left to rot, are used to make paper pulp and from the stump rosin and turpentine are taken. Mr. Siecke regretted that Texas had only one wood pulp mill, at Orange, whereas there are about eight in Louisiana, all because of the constructive legislation making it possible for mills to carry out their timber program with a tax system which is not considered burdensome.

There are 4,000,000 acres of non-productive cut-over land in some forty East Texas counties once in virgin pine forests, much of which could become a profitable source of commercial timber if reforestation were practiced. He said that several East Texas communities last fall and winter sold ties and pole timbers to the amount of more than $350,000, with ties bringing 50c to 60c each, which helped to retrieve losses of the cotton crop.

With chemists finding new uses for lumber every year, Mr. Siecke believes that the Texas post oak stands in the eastern and western cross-timber areas in a few years will be sources of profit when this wood is manufactured by new processes into wood flour to be converted into rayon and similar substances used in the textile and other industries.

Boys' and Girls' Club Department

Club Notes and Farm News By County Agent C. L. Beason

Tree Dedicated
For more than a half century a Fourth of July celebration has been held at Cedar Creek near Edge. Henceforth, the ground may be made more historic. On last Thursday during a picnic demonstration at the old picnic grounds, a native pecan tree, budded to paper shell pecans, was dedicated to the heroes of San Jacinto, County Agent Beason reminding those present that it was just 91 years ago when Santa Anna the "Napoleon of the West," surrendered to General Sam Houston, and the Texas soldiers sheathed their swords, bright with the prowess of the day before as the scimitars of Eden's sentinels. County Agent R. B. Ewing of Robertson county assisted in the ceremonies. It is fitting that our state tree, the pecan, should be dedicated to the heroes who gave up our freedom.

Club Organized
The Harvey boys' and girls' club has reorganized with the following officers: Elsie Yardley, president; Hazel Kelley, secretary; W. C. Raines, Jr., yell leader; Mrs. Noah Cole, adult leader.

Makes Good Talk
So interesting and instructive was R. R. Repper's talk at Reliance on last Saturday night that the audience unanimously invited him to return at some later meeting. He pointed out that the farmer is bothered by many insects, and that the biting insects, such as the Colorado potato beetle may be controlled by poison, but the sucking insects such as meadow lice, are not affected by poison, but may be controlled by repellants, nicotine sulphate dust, etc.

Doing Good Work
The Wellborn boys' and girls' club held an interesting meeting on the fourth Friday night, refreshments, cake and lemonade, being served all present. Miss Moxley, principal of the Wellborn school and adult leader of the club, is bringing the Wellborn club to the front.

Keep At Project
Don't neglect your project, whether it be corn, cotton, pig, poultry livestock, dairying, gardening, or home improvement.

Needs Efficiency
"Agriculture has got to take a leaf out of the book of big business and organize for efficiency," said Secretary Jardine in an address before a recent meeting of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and he added, "The business man of this country should give the agricultural cooperative movement their heartiest encouragement and support. There is no benefit to any group of the population in having one big group—the farmers—working at a disadvantage. The growth of American business along sound lines has helped every citizen. The growth of American agriculture along similar lines will mean another step forward for the entire population of the United States."

Local Citizens Attend a Church Meet in Houston
The State Convention of the Disciples of Christ or Christian church of Texas is convening in Houston.

Among those from Bryan and College Station in attendance include Rev. A. F. Ainsworth, W. S. Collard, Mrs. W. S. Collard, Mrs. Guy Bittle, Mrs. H. O. Ferguson, Mrs. John E. Dishman, Mrs. John R. Edwards, Mrs. Fagin, Mrs. D. E. Aden, Mrs. Ernest Langford, S. Leroy Davidson and several cadets.

Graves Of 101 Confederate Heroes And 17 World War Veterans Are Decorated By Local U. D. C. Club

The bugle "call," Boy Scouts and Rifleman standing "attention" at the grave of Colonel Briscoe G. Baldwin, chief of Ordnance, Gen. Robert E. Lee's staff, C. S. A., flags floating to the breeze; fervent prayers; words spoken of the "deeds of valor" done by those who have passed on; the lowly graves marked with flags, and later adorned with flowers by the hands of the children, all contributed to the beautiful and sacred service on Decoration Day in Bryan, under the direction of the local chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. S. M. Hunter, chairman of the U. D. C. committee, with her assistants, did their best to ascertain the names of all Confederate and World War veterans, who now sleep in the Bryan cemetery, in order that every one, might be marked with the flag and the flowers. They succeeded well, but feel sure there are others, whose graves have not been located. They ask for the cooperation of all the people in this labor of love and patriotism; in securing a correct and complete list of graves, in order that in the coming years, Decoration Day may find every soldier's grave in Bryan's city of the dead, marked with a loving remembrance.

The graves of 101 Confederate veterans were located and 17 World War soldiers, making a total of graves decorated this year 118. Co-Operative Marketing Phases Of Membership, Management, And Finance To Be Discussed May 4-6

(Special to the Eagle).
COLLEGE STATION, April 27.—Problems of cooperative marketing associations, particularly those relating to finances, membership and management, will come in for detailed consideration and discussion at the first school of Cooperative Marketing at the A. and M. College of Texas, scheduled for May 4, 5, and 6. The school will be conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the A. and M. College in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture and Texas cooperative marketing associations.

"We hope to be able to present for the consideration of those who attend, the most recent and important developments in the field of cooperative marketing," C. H. Alvord, director of the Extension Service said in announcing the program of the school. "We will have present representatives of the office of Cooperative Marketing of the United States Department of Agriculture, representatives of the economics and research departments of the College and the Experiment Station, and officers and representatives of various Texas cooperative organizations. This will be the first school of Cooperative marketing at the A. and M. College, and we hope to develop sufficient interest to justify repetition from year to year.

"This school proposes," Director Alvord continued, "to deal with facts rather than theories and those who will take part in the discussions are qualified to relate from experience the causes of failure and the reasons for success of various efforts in cooperative marketing developed in the United States during the last few years. There is no subject in the field of economic research that is of more importance at present than cooperative marketing. The executive and legislative branches of our National Government have fostered and assisted this movement and will probably continue to do so. It is, therefore, important that those actually engaged in work of this kind should avail themselves of the opportunity of getting the best possible information on how to make a success of the effort.

"One of these schools was recently held in Georgia during the meeting of the Southern Workers Agricultural Conference. The one in Texas will be on a scale fully as comprehensive as the one in Georgia. Special attention will be given to the problems of marketing dairy and poultry products, livestock, and cotton."

The program of the school has been designed especially for agricultural extension workers, field men and directors of cooperative associations and others who are working to direct the cooperative movement in Texas along sound lines. Director Alvord has announced that anyone interested in cooperative marketing, directly or indirectly is invited to attend the school and take part. It has been requested that those expecting to attend advise Director Alvord so that hotel accommodations may be reserved.

Visiting speakers who will participate in the school program include: A. W. McKay, J. J. Jones, and George O. Gatlin, division of cooperative marketing, U. S. Department of Agriculture; John Orr, president; M. E. Hays, director of field service; Harry Williams, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Susan Landou, educational representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association; L. R. Campbell, secretary Texas Farm Bureau Federation; Miss Grace Webster, secretary Texas Wheat Growers' Association; J. E. Stanford, assistant manager East Texas Chamber of Commerce; B. C. Pittuck, secretary Texas Cotton Growers' Finance Corporation.
